

Adeola - Where is home?

That's a tough one. I am split because Widnes [where her parents live] is still home for me and every time I go back home it feels nice. It is calm. When I go to Widnes it is like I am staying in a fancy hotel because it is just so different. Leicester is very busy. Maybe because I live close to the town, it is crowded, it is busy, it is loud, which I love because you know there is never a dull moment. But sometimes when I go back to Widnes, you get that sense of calmness because everything kind of stands still for a moment. When I go home, I want that sense of calmness. Then I can recharge and then go back to my busy life. So I would say my home is both Widnes and Leicester. I get a sense of home with either one.
