

Jackie - Where is home?

It is a bit odd – when you said that I just thought of my mum's cooking! I feel that home is not particularly a place, but it is made up of family and that connection and trust and community.