

Desmond - Quirky treasure

I got to a point where I wanted to start my own radio station again. So ten years ago I started Ghetto FM again online. Then I changed the name because it wasn't appropriate for where I wanted to go. So I changed the name to Leicester Community Radio. That's what we stand for – we are Leicester, community, and we are a radio [station]. So ten years on, we're here today. This is our tenth anniversary. There's been a lot of hard ups and downs and struggles. But I'm just doing my little bit for the community. That's the whole reason I started, to give a voice to the community that never had a voice before. That and the love of music.
