

Sara - Changes good and bad

Generally, Leicester has changed over the period that I have been here. I mean things cannot stay still and I think we all have to learn to live and work with people who are different. I work with a mental health charity. There is always a lot of negativity towards this group of people. People can be very negative towards particular races as well, but I think we need to really work towards removing these stigmas about people of different races. Leicester is pretty good I would say, even though it has changed a lot, and we have a lot of different groups of people here. Some people say non-white has outweighed the white population. It might, but is that a bad thing, as long as we all try and get on with each other?
