

Paul - Celebrating Leicester

Leicester has got a lot of good things. If you are sport-orientated then it has got lots of facilities. It just frustrates me sometimes that we do not look after what we have. If we look after it more, it will grow. And that is the same with the community, if you look after the community, then the community will grow, and the community may then want to take over some of these things. I always think the sky is the limit!
