

Tracey - Lived religion and belief

[Being a Christian] makes you maybe think about your neighbours more. Because I think there is quite a bit of an isolated society, where people are indoors now, which is the opposite to how I grew up. You do not really meet people as you did, but I think it is nice to make sure your neighbours are okay.